If you have in-depth skills with Sketch, a background in digital design and attention to detail that verges on the obsessive, this is the perfect opportunity to take your next step.

You'll have the chance to create accurate, eye-catching imagery that drives traffic, engages customers and takes jewellery aficionados' breath away.

The Role

As a Digital Designer, you will be responsible for producing highly accurate marketing collateral for jewellery advertising campaigns.

Working in a technical capacity, you will utilise 'Look and Feel' documents as set out by the Senior Designer and translate that into creative assets for given campaigns.

Your role will involve:

- Working on Facebook single and carousel, Instagram and Pinterest adverts
- Completing broadcast emails and on-site banners
- Using Sketch and Adobe Creative Suite

About You

To be considered as a Digital Designer, you will need:

- Previous digital design experience, primarily using Sketch
- Proficiency in Adobe Creative Suite
- Extreme attention to detail with an incredible eye for accuracy
- To be highly self-motivated and confident in your own abilities
